“Bridging The Gap” is a series of workshops designed to foster an open dialogue between the Filipino youth and adults, to deal with cultural and generational issues within the community. Some of the discussion topics include:

- Growing up in a bi-racial family
- Cultural differences between the American born Filipino-Americans and recent Filipino immigrants
- Maintaining your cultural identity
- Breaking down the Filipino stereotypes
- Living with traditional Filipino parents
- Differences between American and Filipino culture

Our Keynote Speaker

E.J.R David is primarily interested in the psychological experiences of Filipino Americans and their mental health. His recent research include “The Colonial Mentality Project”. He recently received his Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.
