This conference held for the very first time here at the U will not only be held to educate people about the Filipino culture. Instead, we take it a step further by showing how our culture is a dynamic one that constantly changes. Throughout the day you will engage in cultural, interactive and educational sessions that will bring you through the progressing Philippine generations, from our continuously changing pursuit of careers, traditional and modern dance styles, and our perception of ourselves as Filipinos. Our four unique dialogues will show you how the "Panahon", or time, has shaped the Philippine culture throughout history, making us proud to present to you - our sides of the story.
